3. DISCUSSION ITEMS

A. Discussion of Citations issued by the Department.

Public Comment

Dan Guss: Commented on citation.

Robert Ferber from the Office of the City Attorney, Office, discussed the request for additional bail for animal offenses. Indicated that most of the effort today is to “get people out of jail”. The bail schedule was increased from $25 to $35. Commissioner Riordan asked if we should pursue the Administrative Citation. Mr. Ferber indicated that the City is owed millions of dollars in fines from other administrative citations and has on way to collect. He also commented that the mayor and council are in support of administrative citations.

Officer Fisher, LAPD, said that offenders were being booked under the code section dealing with illegal sales of animals because the bail is higher. The small bail amount increase did nothing to solve the problem. Judges are setting bail for cruelty cases at $5,000 rather than $40,000 due to the pressure of not putting people in jail. Commissioner Riordan commented that permitted pet stores are fined and pay the fine, while unlicensed sellers are fined and do not pay. People who have a stake in the community tend to pay the fines. Officer Fisher, LAPD, said that as far as Santee Alley is concerned the sales continue. However, it is becoming more difficult for uniformed officers to catch the sellers of animals. As we get closer to Christmas, the sales activity will increase. Commissioner Secunda asked if Immigration officers can be brought in to focus on the problem;

John Chavez, Assistant-General-Manager, spoke on the signage issue. He indicated that the Depart received an e-mail from Councilwoman Perry’s Office saying that they had met with property owners who look favorable and will allow the Department to post signs in and around Santee Alley. Jim Bickhart, Office of the Mayor, reported that they are progressing in an orderly manner. They have locations and the number of signs to order for the Westside and the fashion district. Other areas of the city, such as Chinatown and Macarthur Park areas, the information is not yet available. Mr. Bickhart said the signs will be multi-lingual. Funds are not budgeted for the signage. Sharing sign space with other issues tends to dilute the message.

Commissioner Riordan said the sign should be coupled with an education campaign. Any suggestions to combat animal sales should be a complete program. Commissioner Ramsayer asked if an effort to follow the sellers of animals was made. Officer Fisher said that through the use of donated time from a private investigator could not pinpoint the location of the breeding locations. Commissioner Riordan asked if there was cooperation between the various counties. It was indicated that LAPD had no program to reach out to other counties.

Lt. William Tranzow testified that a lot of vendors are selling dwarf rabbits and not underage rabbits. The last inspection was within 24 hours of the complaint.

GM Brenda Barnette reported that the Department was working with the council to outlaw the sale of millbred animals throughout the City.

Bob Ferber, said there is a cultural difference between the Department and various segments of the community. There has to be an educational outreach to change the perception of the community. Commissioner Ramsayer suggested that an adoption event should be held in the community with the children to change the perception of the community.

B. Free Vaccinations Clinic

Public Comment

Dan Guss: Keeping comments on the agenda items.

Ms. Barnette reported that the chief Veterinarian reported that an increase in sick animals have been reported at the South Los Angeles Shelter. He requests that he be allowed to do some free vaccination clinics, especially in the South Los Angeles area. This is a technique to increase the health of animals in the area. DAPP and rabies be administered for $20.00.
